Having an X-Ray

An X-Ray is a type of test that is done in a hospital.

It is like having a photograph done of the inside of your body.

When you arrive at the department for your X-ray you will need to give your letter or card to the person on the reception desk.

You will need to sit in the waiting area until it is your turn to go in for an X-ray.

When it is your turn you will need to take off your shirt or top and put on a hospital gown.

The radiographer will put the X-ray machine in the right position for taking your X-ray.

The radiographer will then go behind a screen to take the picture. Your carer can stay with you.

Once your x-ray photograph has been done you can get off the trolley and go and get changed back into your clothes.
